Administrative/Biographical Data

The first commencement was held for Macon Junior College in 1970. The first class consisted of only 2 specialities, an associates of Art and an associates of Science. Several name changes are noted within the commencement programs including: Macon College in 1987, Macon State College in 1997, and finally 2013 the merger between MGC and MSC to create Middle Georgia State College. In 2015 that name was updated to Middle Georgia State University.

Scope and Content

The Commencement programs span from 1970 to present day that include addresses from speakers as well as honors recognitions. Most are single year programs with Spring and Fall divides beginning in 2015. The Honors Convocation programs recognize student excellence in academics, leadership, and community services.
